DEFEATED BY TRIBESMEN. Serious Losses-Suffered by the British in the Abor Country. CALCUTTA, March 9.-Dispatches received here from the neighborhood of the scene of operation of the columns engaged in punishing the Abor tribesmen announce serious losses sustained by the British. An additional deachment of two hundred men left Sadi Yah yesterday to meet the British expedition commanded by Captain Maxwell, which has for some time been following up the retreating tribesmen. According to native reports, Captain Maxwell has met with such determined resistance that he has not only been unable to reach Damroh, the town he had for some time past been endeavoring to capture, but he has been so hardly pressed by the Abors that, losing a number of men in killed and wounded, he has been compelled to retreat, after destroying the fortified camps which he had oc-

Another dispatch received from Gowhatty, the chief town of Assam, announces a still more serious disaster for the British army. It appears that a detached party, composed of thirty rifles and four British officers, had been operating as an escort to a train on its way to Bordax with pro-visions and ammunition for the garrison of that town. The detachment encountered no opposition until it was far from its base operations, and then the tribesmen began to gather ahead of it and on its flanks, keeping up a galling fire, which eventually For two days the little detachment kept up a continuous fight day and night with the tribesmen, but eventually the little band of thirty soldiers, surrounded by thousands of tribesmen, were killed. The entire Abor expedition is in a most critical situation. In addition to the troops hur-ried forward from Sadi Yah, reinforcements are being sent with all possible haste to the front, in the hope of rescuing the Maxwell column. The exact strength of the column commanded by Captain Maxwell is not known, but on Jan. 3 six hundred men were dispatched against the Abor tribesmen on the Assam frontier, an attack having been made a few days previously upon a party of British military police, of whom seven

It appears that there has been considerable ill feeling for some time past between the Sepoys and the native coolies. Matters became so serious, eventually, that fighting between the Sepoys and coolies was of almost daily occurrence. Finally, a seri-Sepoys and camp lowers were massacred by the coolies. It is believed that the massacre was a pre concerted affair, carefully planned by the natives. The military authorities are much disturbed at the turn of affairs in the Abor district, and the most prompt and effective measures will be taken to restore order. Considerable anxiety is expressed here as to the fate of the Maxwell column.

AN EX-PRESIDENT TALKS. Vasquez Thinks Bonilla and Nicaragua Will Make Trouble. SAN SALVADOR, March 9.-Ex-President Vasquez told a correspondent to-day that he considered the war in Honduras ended. He belived that Bonilla would attempt, with the help of Nicaragua, to embroil all the Central American countries, and he thought the first attack would be on Salvador. In speaking of his own movements, Vasquez said he did not intend to allow himself to be a pretext for trouble to the country which had received him with so much hospitality. His plan is to leave for the United States as soon as possible, and from thence he will travel to Europe. He does not expect to stay away from Honduras very long. Ex-President Vasquez says his troops fought well, but they were completely outnumbered. He declared he knew General Cordoval well, and was certain that he would do all in his power to avert civil strife of any kind. President Vasquez said he expected a revolution in Nicaragua before long, because the whole country is disaffected and in a bad condition financially. He was asked what he thought of a Central American union, and he replied, unless some very strong man like Ezeta should take the lead the project was impracticable, Leopold Cordova and a number of other

Russia and China at Peace. SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.- The steamship Gaelic, from Yokohama and Hong Kong, with advices to Feb. 24, arrived today. It is reported that Russia and China have come to a secret understanding regarding the Pamirs. According to a Shanghal paper, Count Cassini, Russian minister at the Chinese capital, has received the highest decoration lying in the power of the Emperor of China to give, namely, the Shuang Lung, or Double Dragon, first division, first class. This honor is the highest ever conferred on a foreigner. The paper remarks that Count Cassini must have rendered extraordinary services to China, or China must be extremely anxious to propitiate the Russian ruler. Yokohama advices announce continued election disturbances. Many Soshi have been arrested. Several persons have been killed and wounded at political meetings. Gendarmes have been sent to Kakoshima to keep the peace. Tochigi and other pre-fectures have applied for gendarmes.

A Missing American Boy. PARIS, March 9.-The Journal De Paris asserts, but without basis of fact, that the decomposed body of a young man which was found caught in the Weir at Suresnes, on the Seine, was that of Edward Webster, whose mother, Mrs. Theodore Conkling, lived at No. 64 West Seventleth street, New York, and who left the St. Lazzare railroad station, this city, last New Year's evening for Colombes, six miles from Paris, and has not been seen since. Young Webster was the only son of the late John P. Webster, who was known on the New York Produce Exchange as "Jack" Webster, and who, upon his death, five years ago, left an estate of about $400,000, which the missing lad would have inherited on attaining his majority. Edward Webster was only seventeen years of age, but as he was six feet two inches tall and weighed 180 pounds, he looked several years older.

The Kaiser at Charlottenburg. BERLIN, March 9.-The imperial family visited Charlottenburg to-day and placed wreaths upon the sarcophagus of Emperor William on the occasion of the anniversary of his death. The Emperor this evening was the guest at a dinner given by the Prussian Agricultural Minister. The Emperor chatted until midnight on agricultural questions with the gentlemen present, but avoided a discussion of politics. He evinced great interest in the project to create chambers of agriculture, and said he thought they would be appropriate bodies to negotiate with the government in behalf of the land owners.

Bomb Explodes Under a Bed. PARIS, March 9.-An infernal machine exploded this evening under the bed of workman who had an apartment in a house In the Colombe quarter, and caused much excitement among the people in the neighborhood. The workman and his landlady were arrested. The prisoners made conflicting explanations as to the presence of the bomb under the bed. The man says that he was not in his room at the time of the explosion, and disclaimed all knowledge of Chilian Conservatives Defeated. VALPARAISO, March 9.- The result of the elections for members of the Chillan Congress is now definitely known, and no doubt is left as to the utter defeat of the Conservatives. The next Senate will be composed of twenty-one Liberals and eleven Conservatives, while the Chamber of Deputies will contain twenty-eight Liberals, twenty-eight Conservatives, twentytwo Balmacedists and sixteen Radicals.

Germany Will Build a Cruiser. BERLIN, March 9.-In the Reichstag today the government asked that money be appropriated for new ships. Vice Admiral Holman, Secretary of Naval Affairs, said the question was not an increase of the navy, but merely to replace vessels which have become obsolete. Finally money for one cruiser out of the three asked for was Rosebery Will Make a Speech. Senor Sagasta, President of the Spanish Council of Ministers, is trying to persuada Senor Camazo, the Minister of Finance, to withdraw his resignation, owing to the difficulty experienced in finding a suitable person to replace him.

GIFT FROM ARMOUR.

Chicago's Philanthropist Will Found a School at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.-It was learned to-day that Philip D. Armour, the Chicago philanthrepist, will give $500,000 to the San Francisco public schools for the establishment of a manual training school in which to teach boys trades. This generous endowment of a trade school is intend-ed by Mr. Armour to serve as a memorial of his early success in California in the pioneer days, when he made the money which served as a nucleus of his fortune He and Dr. Gunsaulus have been specially interested in the work done at Stanford University.

7,000 ON STRIKE.

Flax-Workers at Paterson Join the Silk Weavers.

NEW YORK, March 9.-Nearly seven thousand persons are now on strike in Paterson. To-day the flaxworkers joined the silk weavers in their demand for higher wages. Almost all the employes of the Barbour Flax-spinning Company went out. The streets were crowded to-night with the strikers. The police dispersed every crowd that gathered, but no one was hurt.

Governor Denounced by Miners. CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 9 .- Ferry, chairman of the executive committee of the union mine laborers, was at the Statehouse to-day, and had a long conference with Governor McCorkle. There was a meeting at Montgemery to-night of the striking miners, addressed by Gen. C. C. Watts, of this city. United States district attorney. The miners are very much incensed against Governor McCorkie for sending troops to Eagle, and one of the objects of the meeting to-night was to denounce him. The detectives among the miners are not Pinkerton men, but from the Mooney & Boland agency, of Chicago. One company of troops was withdrawn to-day.

The Strike Spreading. BELVIDERE, Ill., March 9.-The forces of the striking machine hands in the National Sewing Machine Company's works were augmented to-day by the addition of the metal polishers, who went out in a body, and who were joined by about sixty other employes, who had no connection with the union. These afterwards became members of the brotherhood of sewing machine factory employes, which organization called the strike in the first place. There seems to be no immediate prospect of settling the difficulty.

Attorney Emerick Terribly Beats Up Dr. Younge, of Fort Wayne. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 9 .- A few days since a scurrilous article reflecting on the character of E. V. Emerick, a prominent attorney and prospective candidate for county prosecutor, was distributed about the streets. There was nothing to indicate the author, but Mr. Emerick suspected his old enemy, Dr. J. W. Younge. The two men have had a controversy for some time, and Younge has been especially bitter in his denunciation. This evening Emerick entered Younge's office and gave him a terrible beating and nearly choked the life out of him. He was taken home and placed in the care of physicians, and at 9 o'clock had not regained consciousness, and it is feared his injuries will result fatally.

WOULD BE A GOOD MOVE. But Coates College Board Will Not Decide Till June.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 9.- The report that a project is on foot to remove Coates College, the Presbyterian female educational institution, from this city to Crawfordsville and establish a co-ordinate system of education with Wabash College, came as a great surprise to Terre Haute people. It seems that some time ago friends of Wabash College who believe in co-ordinate education, if not in coeducation, entered into correspondence with the Wabash trustees to learn how they would look on the plan of removing Coates College. A majority of the trustees had voted down a proposition for coeducation, but most of them are said to be not averse to locating Coates College on the Wabash grounds and giving the students of the former college all the advantages of the lectures, the laboratory and library now enjoyed by

Since that much adjoining land has been bought, which, with other causes, has created a debt of $45,000. There are fifty boarding students, which is the full capacity of the accommodations. The faculty is an excellent one. and the college's standard is very high. It is said that were it not for the interest on the debt the revenue would care for the annual expense. Should the removal take place money would have to be raised to construct the buildings at Crawfordsville, as the college would leave here with nothing in the way of money. The two boards of trustees will hold their annual meetings next June, when the question will be set-

ARTIST TEMPLE DOOMED. Two of His Wives Have Determined to See Him Punished.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., March 9.-Mrs. Retta Temple, wife of Harry Temple, the bigamist, under arrest at Martin's Ferry, O., arrived home this morning. Mrs. Temple, who is Temple's first wife, was accompanied by wife No. 3, a rather prepossessing blonde of twenty years, named Celia Coffey, whom Temple married on Jan. 3, 1894, at Lenore, N. C. After the marriage Temple traveled around with the woman, finally leaving her at the St. Charles Hotel, Wheeling, W. Va., he going on to Columbus, O., from which point he wrote to her to return to Lenore, where he would meet her. She did as requested, but Temple did not show up. Instead, he went to Wheeling, where he was arrested for burglary and locked up. He especially requested the newspaper people to say nothing of his arrest because it would ruin his business, but his petition was not granted, and when the wife learned of his apprehension she came on to Wheeling. Letters were then found which proved that he had at least two other wives, and the Wabash wife was summoned to appear against him. Mrs. Temple, the Wabash wife, said that when she entered the jail her little boy recognized Temple, calling him "papa," and that Temple nearly fainted, leaning against the wall for support. Wife No. 2 is an Indianapolis girl named Mamie Peters. Temple's trial has been set for March 26, and until that date Mrs. Temple Nos. 1 and 3 will remain in Wabash. Both the women are extremely vindictive, and will not rest until he is safe behind the bars.

MONTPELIER OIL FIELD.

The Business Picking Up and a Number of Wells Going Down.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MONTPELIER, Ind., March 9.-This community has been much interested in the oil well that Lockwood & Co. have drilled on the Spaulding farm in Wells county. It has not flowed any oil since it was shot, but prior to that event it made quite a showing. This, however, is characteristic of this territory. The rich oil deposits are not extensive as regards area, but some of them are comparatively rich. These fat pools are found at intervals along the whole stretch of country from Geneva, Adams county, nearly to Marion, Grant county, skirting the great gas deposit on the north. It is probable that during the coming summer the Indiana oil field will witness some pretty lively scenes. Some prominent Eastern operators have located at Marion in order to head off the I hour to-night a jury returned a verdict of rush westward. They have anchored con-siderable cash in the locality east and southeast of that town in hopes of finding oil in as good quantity as it is found further eastward. They take pointers from the condition of the gas wells that have been found there, some of which have been seriously effected with oil. Van Euren township, which lies six miles east of Marion, has been pretty thoroughly leased, and, in fact, a large percentage of Washington township is in the same condition. The Sugar gas well, six miles east of Marion, has produced oil that has been taken to Marion and used as fuel for a year past. It is said the well has produced more than two thousand barrels. North of the Sugar about a mile, Forest & Co. have just com-plated a well on the Tinkle farm. It was reported this morning to be a gasser, good for three million feet. Good gas wells have been found in the heart of the most prolific oil deposits of the State. The well was drilled to thirty-five feet in Trenton rock. Another well has been started on the Jason Wilson farm in Van Buren township by parties from Toledo. Other tests will follow, and if oil exists in a large quantity in Van Buren, Washington and Monroe townships it will be discovered before the season is

E. & W. northbound passenger train four miles south of this city this morning on his refusal to pay the extra 10 cents. Mr. Spence purchased what he presumed to be a round-trip ticket to this city, but after getting on the train he made the discovery that the agent had made a mistake and sold him a ticket to Eaton and return. Mr. Spence offered the conductor the ticket, which the latter refused to accept, and then tendered him the regular fare, which was also refused the conductor. The conductor demanded the extra 10 cents, which Spence refused to give. The train was stopped and Mr. Spence was requested to vacate, which he did. Mr. Spence will enter suit for $10,000 damages.

Another Relic of Mound Builders.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MADISON, Ind., March 9 .- A few days ago a mound was discovered on the Kentucky river below Carrollton. A party of men excavated it, and on digging down for ten feet were surprised to find three human skeletons of gigantic size. They were between two layers of ashes, with their heads extending toward the setting sun. The bones were of monstrous size, and from the manner of burial they were beyond doubt a relic of the mound builders, that ancient race who occupied this continent thousands of years ago. The arms and lags were lit erally covered with curious shaped beads, several of which were exhibited by one of the party who discovered the cave. The beads seem to be constructed from the teeth of some animal, and are in perfect

The city officials and ex-councilmen attended in a body, and also the P. O. S. of A., with commandery. The service at the grave was that of the P. O. S. of A.

Movements of Steamers. NEW YORK, March 9.-Arrived: Britannic, from Liverpool; Trave, from Bremen; Wieland, from Naples; Belgenland, from Antwerp. The first part of the Trave's passage was marked by very stormy weather, in which the steamer labored heavily and shipped large quantities of water which flooded her decks. No great damage was done, however. QUEENSTOWN, March 9. - Arrived: Pavonia, from Boston, for Liverpool; Berlin, from Boston. LIVERPOOL, March 9. - Arrived. Germanic, from New York, via Queenstown. BREMERHAVEN, March 9. - Arrived: Aller, from New York. LIZARD, March 9.-Passed: Massachusetts, for New York. LIVERPOOL, March 9.-Sailed: Bovic, for New York.

Business Embarrassments. BOSTON, Mass., March 9.-James B. Billings, boots and shoes, No. 116 Summer street, with factories at Marlboro, has assigned to William H. Allman. The cause of the failure is stated to be poor collections, losses in the manufacturing department and shrinkage in profits during the past three years. The indebtedness is stated to be about $100,000 and the nominal assets about $70,000, but these may be subject to some shrinkage. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 9.-The Controller of the Currency has made an assessment of 92 per cent, on the stockholders of the defunct First National Bank of this city, payable next Monday. Holders of new stock in this city have engaged the most prominent lawyers, and propose to defeat the assessment, because it was irrégularly issued.

Tammany Hall Scored.

NEW YORK, March 9.- The subject of a greater New York was discussed by the Petri Club, of this city, to-night. John A. Taylor, formerly corporation counsel for Brooklyn, said the government of New York was in the hands of thieves and vandals who wished to destroy the only artistic building on Manhattan island. Its judges did their dirty work on election day and then ran away to California, and when an attempt is made to punish criminals it the little ones New York jumps on, while Brooklyn disposes of the big fellows. In conclusion he said the two cities would come together by natural growth, and nothing could prevent it.

Hatch's Bill to Be Modified.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.-H. B. Slaughter. who was sent to Washington as the representative of the Merchants' Exchange to protest against the passage of the Hatch anti-option bill, has returned. He says: "Mr. Hatch stated that the bill would be revised, and that he would like the assistance of the boards of trade in making changes which would be in conformity with their rules and wishes. When this is done I feel sure there will be nothing at all objectionable in the measure."

New-Fangled Infernal Machine. ST. LOUIS, March 9.-Officers searching the house of Hermann and Otto Sasse, recently arrested for connection with a postoffice robbery at Desoto, Mo., found to-day that one of the articles discovered was an infernal machine of a new pattern. Two fire bricks were found strongly cemented together. They had been hollowed out, then put together, a hole drilled in and the cavity filled with nearly a quart of giant powder. All that was needed was to insert a

Submitted to Arbitration.

CHIACGO, March 9 .- The famous litigation between William Sturges, the Chicago promoter, and John V. Farwell and his associates, in the Texas capital and other schemes, will be ended in an unusual manner. It has been decided to refer every point to Judge Tuley, April 4, for arbitra-tion, and from his decision there will be no appeal. The case involves 3,000,000 acres of land in the Panhandle country in northern Texas and 150,000 head of cattle.

Determined to Die.

PATERSON, N. J., March 9 .- August Dix, a homeless silk weaver, attempted to commit suicide this afternoon by jumping into the Passaic river off of the Lincoln bridge. He was rescued by Sergeant McGirr, who rowed out into the stream in a boat. Dix was taken to the police station and locked up. Shortly after being locked in a cell ha was found hanging to the bars of the cell door, dead. He hung himself with a slik handkerchief.

Kearsarge Inquiry Concluded. NEW YORK, March 9.- The taking of the estimony in relation to the wreck of the Kearsarge on Roncador reef was completed to-day by the naval court sitting at the Brooklyn navy yard. The finding of the court will be reported to Secretary Herbert.

AIRING THE SCANDAL.

(Concluded from First Page.)

lard, Mr. Carlisle asked: "Can you reproduce his tone of voice?"

"No, sir; I wish I could," replied the Major in a tone which produced a burst of laughter and reprimand from the court On May 17, in witness's office, Colonel Breckinridge told him that the lady was pregnant through her relations with him; that she was going to New York to prepare for the event, and that he intended to marry her "He asked me to witness his prosecuting him. The second wife has been marry her. "He asked me to witness his determination. We three clasped hands. It was an impressive scene," said the Major. Miss Pollard had drawn from her bosom a revolver, declaring that if she had occasion to do so she would use it upon herself and him. The witness took it, Col. Breckinridge suggesting that he should return it to her as a Christmas present, she telling him to give it to her on her birth-

CAUSED A STIR. There was a stir of excitement through the room as Major Moore, continuing, said: "He told her that she could not accuse him of having approached her with flowers or led her astray; that the first time he saw her he took liberties with her and the second night he accomplished his purpose." During this interview, which lasted half an hour. Miss Pollard reclined on the sofa and Colonel Breckinridge sat there. Major Moore had received four communications from Colonel Breckinridge and one telegram. The letters were handed to Col. Breckinridge for identification. "Those are in my handwriting. That typewritten one has my signature. I sent that telegram," was his comment, in a matter-of-fact way. One dated Lexington, Ky., June 22, 1893 asked the particular favor of the Major, stating that Miss Pollard was writing to people in Kentucky, spreading news of her engagement. The second one, dated July 10, 1893, stated that he paid the penalty of public life by malicious notes in papers like Town Topics and innuendo inspired by Miss Pollard, which created scandal. "There is no reason why she should destroy herself," said the letter. One of July 23, dated at Harrington, Tenn., introduced Maj. P. Johnson and W. S. McChesney as Col. Breckinridge's friends, who would co-operate with Major Moore in preventing scandal. It had been presented by them on July 26. Major Johnson had given him a check for $100, dr wn by Colonel Breckinridge on July 31, to assist Miss Pollard, but witness having no idea of her whereabouts, the check had been returned to Colonel Breckinridge. A letter dated Lexington, Aug. announced Colonel Breckinridge's expected return to Washington for the special session of Congress, said Major Moore knew the situation better than Colonel Breckin-ridge did, and concluded: "I do not know whether to expect any trouble. Beginning to cross-examine, Mr. Thompson said, dropping into the Kentucky vernacular, "Major, have you got that gun the lady pulled from her bosom?" A messenger was dispatched to the chief's office for the revolver. Mr. Thompson was inclined to be facetious, saying, in his questions, "She threatened him with death, not with marriage. She threw up her little white hands, saying those were her only "Her lily-white hands," repeated Colonel Breckinridge, sotto voce. "Did she say that he had never wronged her?" asked Mr. Thompson, whereupon Miss Pollard cried "No," shrilly, and her lawyers and friends devoted themselves to quieting her, which they were able to do with some difficulty. "Not at that time," was Major Moore's answer to the question. One of the best known physicians of the city, Dr. N. S. Lincoln, then testified that Colonel Breckinridge had brought Miss Pollard to him in May, 1893, representing that she needed attention, as she was unreasonably jealous and exceedingly nervous. Her delicate condition had been referred to, and Dr. Lincoln testified that he had said that one or two other professions were required in her case. The examination of the Doctor was brief, and at its conclusion, 3 o'clock having arrived, the court adjourned till Monday. Sister Cecilia Will Testify. PUEBLO, Col., March 9.-Sister Cecelia, of the Sisters' Hospital, or this city, has gone to Washington to give testimony in the Pollard-Breckinridge breach-of-promise case. Sister Cecilia was Mother Superior at the Foundling Asylum in Cincinnati in 1885, when Miss Pollard claims to have been delivered of a child there. Both Congressman Breckinridge and Miss Pollard sent for Sister Cecilia to become a witness. Fre could not distinctly remember Miss Pollard, and would not give testimony one way or the other until she visited her old quarters and looked up the records. Breckinridge's Marriage Certificate. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 9 .- County Clerk George Webb received a telegram last night from Hon. Calderon Carlisle, one of Miss Pollard's counsel, requesting him to send at once a certified copy of the marriage record of Mr. Breckinridge and Mrs. Louise Scott Wing, of this city. Mr. Webb sent the copy this morning by express to Washington.

SCORED THE PROTESTANTS. Bitter Words from a Catholic Priest at a Funeral in Pana, Ill.

Assumption (Ill.) Special to St. Louis Re-

The utterances of the Rev. Father Ferdinand Stick at the funeral of Henry Frank at Pana, Ill., have created a most decided sensation in this section of the State. Father Stick, who is a Catholic priest, is a learned man and has up to the present enjoyed the respect and confidence of his entire congregation. Instead of administering words of comfort and sympathy to the large number of sorrowing friends and relatives who were present, he launched out in a tirade on the American Protective Association and the Young Men's Christian Association. In the course of his remarks he said: "The Y. M. C. A. is a hell nole. Mothers I implore you to keep your sons from going to such places. No one attends it but hightoned society people, and it is not a fit place In regard to the Protestants in general he "There is not a good, moral young man in Pana that is a Protestant. The only good young men are Catholics. I had rather stand up with a gambler, a saloon keeper or a drunkard on the judgment day than with a Protestant, for they will all go to htogether. No Protestants can go to heaven; only Catholics go there.' He said there were no true marriages out side the Catholic Church, and people who are married by Protestant clergymen are not virtuous. The marriage by a Catholic priest is the only true marriage. Speaking of the A. P. A. he said: "I understand that the Protestants an A. P. A.'s want all the offices. Let then take the offices and go to h-l with them. The Catholics as well as the Protestant are criticising Father Stick very severely for using such language, especially from the pulpit on such an occasion.

Locomotive Works May Resume.

CHICAGO, March 9.- The Grant locotive works, now idle and in the hands of assignees, will probably resume work in the early months of summer. Recently the assignees of the works proposed a settlement of all claims, which are now being considered by Arthur H. Ryerson and several other gentlemen constituting a committee of the creditors. When the works were established, several years ago, a large tract of land was bought and subdivided into ots suitable for workmen's homes and business houses. Some of the mot valuable lots remain unsold and the intention is to transfer the unsold lots in liquidation of all indebtedness.
